

Liza Zimmerman
SF Wine and Drinks Examiner

Go to Liza's Page

My Bio

Subscribe to Email

Add Liza to Favorite Examiners

100 Things you need to drink in SF before you die (Part 1)

March 8, 3:14 PM · Add a Comment

Next Article

ShareThis Feed

With the bounty of delicious cocktails and wines that surround us in San Francisco it might be difficult to choose a top 100, but I am going to try (and hone the list over a couple of months). For starters, I won't want to leave SF temporarily or permanently without drinking:

1) A Napa Sour, made by barman extraordinaire Marco Dionysos, at CLOCK BAR in the St. Francis, It's a divine combination of the house special Napa Cab blended with Bourbon.

2) A great Italian rose, anything else currently on offer, on the list at Ottimista on Union Street when the weather is nice and you can snack on simple pastas and divine arancini (Sicilian rice balls).

